

INCREASED SAVINGS DEPOSITS AMOUNT TO BILLION AND HALF

Preliminary Figures Tabulated by American Bankers' Association Show Increase

CHICAGO, Ill.—Savings deposits in the United States increased by about $1,500,000,000 in 1922 as compared with 1921, according to preliminary figures tabulated by the savings bank division of the American Bankers' association and announced here through district headquarters.

The figures show that, compared to reported savings deposits on June 30, 1921, of $16,618,695,000, the amount for the corresponding date in 1922 was $18,118,695,000.

The number of savings accounts indicated by the partial data in hand was 25,777,526 on June 30, 1922, as compared to 24,637,821 on the corresponding date in 1921, a gain of 1,139,705. For both the amount of savings and the number of depositors, later data of figures from which complete returns have not yet been received are expected to show larger gains for 1922.

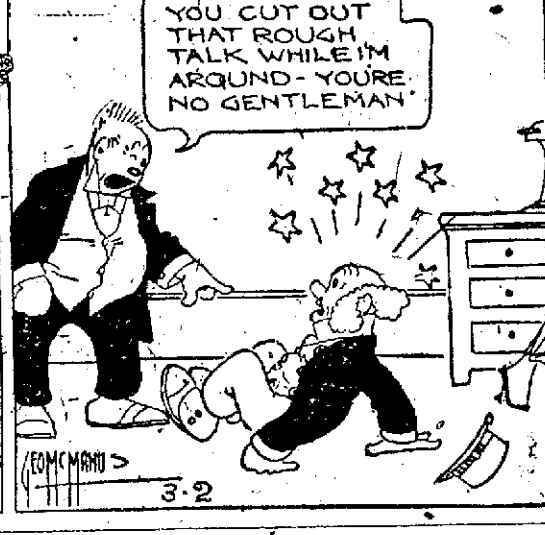

According to this report, savings systems reported deposits of $5,200,000 during the last school year, an increase of 10 per cent over 1921 and 100 per cent over 1920. The number of school systems also increased over 100 per cent during the last school year, and the number of pupils reported as participating was 7,271,000, a growth of 50 per cent over the previous school year.

The data collected by the various banks during the last year, including the year ending June 30, 1922, showed an increase of 10 per cent over 1921 and 100 per cent over 1920. The number of school systems also increased over 100 per cent during the last school year, and the number of pupils reported as participating was 7,271,000, a growth of 50 per cent over the previous school year.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

WINTER'S ICY GRIP BRINGS HARDSHIPS TO FISHERMEN OF WEST NEWFOUNDLAND COAST

CURLING, N. F.—The winter months, always a period of privation for the scattered population of the western shores of Newfoundland, loom this year as a terrible menace to the hardy fishermen along this coast. With months of winter still to come, the government of the colony already has been called upon to relieve the hunger of the homeless that dot the coast from Bonne Bay north, due to the partial failure of the herring fishery last fall, and the freezing in of the herring fleet before the fish could be taken to market.

The first disaster to the herring fishermen was the falling off of the catch to less than half of last year's pack. At Bay of Islands, center of the herring industry on this coast, the pack for 1922 was only 8,000 as against 25,000 barrels for 1921. This fact alone spelled a lean winter for the fishermen, who depend on the money paid them by the packers to tide them over the lean, non-productive season. But worse was to come.

Seven schooners loaded with herring are frozen solid in the ice, to remain until spring. In their holds are thousands of barrels of cured fish, the fruit of a season's labor. Some of the pack is still on shore, but there is little possibility of getting it transported to a railroad for shipment to market. Heavy snowstorms and bitter frosts have tied up the Newfoundland railway for long periods.

Newfoundlanders, familiar with the tragic history of the shore fishermen, say that the worst coast faces the darkest days in the annals of the colony. The task of relieving the fishermen is rendered more difficult by the complete suspension of land and water transportation to their section by the heavy winter. Cargoes of food supplies are piled up at this place and Port aux Basques, while coasting vessels have cancelled their sailings because of the ice barrier.

RESCUER IN ARGONAUT MINE DIES OF HUNTS

SAN FRANCISCO—The Argonaut mine disaster has claimed its forty-seventh victim. Services were arranged on Wednesday for George Downing, assistant superintendent of the Argonaut mine, who died following a four months' battle with infection caused from his vain struggle to release entombed miners.

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a combination in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonsful of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonsful each day, as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddle cakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

THE WINE VAULTS OF LONDON COVER MUCH TERRITORY

Official Records Show Extent of Vaults to be Almost Unlimited

LONDON.—London has been keeping official records of various of its activities for so many generations that today it is possible, with a little imagination and enterprise, to bring together interesting statistics comparing the big, modern city of the present time to the London of the days of Queen Anne, when coaches and chairs were the popular means of conveyance.

In 1700 the foreign trade which passed through the port of London amounted to 10,000,000 pounds sterling. In 1922 it was over 1,000,000,000, according to Sir Joseph Brodribb, who recently delivered an address here on the rise of the city as one of the great ports of the world.

He mentioned an interesting fact concerning the type of Dutch oil boats which have been anchored off the customs house since the days of Queen Elizabeth. These boats had been granted certain privileges and were similar to the first ones used, but in the near future they are to be replaced by motor vessels.

Among some curious facts Sir Joseph mentioned that the River Thames, which carries twenty million tons of commerce every year, could not afford to run steamers to carry passengers. In former days wool was the largest export from the port. Now wool is its largest import, about 700,000 bales passing through the warehouses every year.

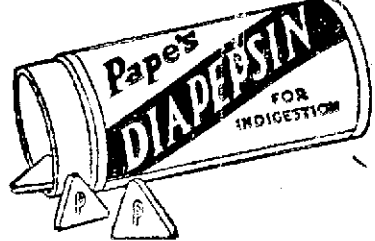

An idea of the size of the London wine vaults is conveyed by the fact that there are 24 miles of gangways running through them. Millwall, the largest wharf in the port, with a capacity of 21,000 tons, only holds enough grain to make London's bread for one week.

PLANT THREATENS TO LEAVE THE STATE IF TAX PROGRAM PASSES

Green Bay Concern Says it Will Change Location of Foundry to Menominee

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Foundry and Machine Works, manufacturers of paper mill packing house and municipal machinery and employing approximately forty men, will probably move their plant's location to Menominee, Mich., if the proposed taxation program before the Wisconsin legislature is passed, according to a communication to the Press-Gazette from that concern Thursday. Correspondence has already been started relative to the proposed removal to Menominee, it was said.

"The addition of extra taxation on our plant, which we had planned on enlarging, looks as though it will put us out of business," declared R. A. Worth, manager. "Our competitors are all located in states that encourage manufacturing. Instead of attempting to kill it and we must meet this competition to live."

Millions Face Starvation As Russia Exports Grain

Eight million Russians will starve to death before August if not fed by Russian or foreign relief. This is the figure set by the Commission on Russian Relief, consisting of Allen Wardwell, Graham R. Taylor, and Allen T. Burns. They have recently returned from a five months' trip in Russia, and their summary report, issued by the National Information Bureau, Inc., is just out. In the face of this comes the astounding news that Russia is exporting grain.

According to the Russian Special Correspondent of the New York Times, Walter Duranty, Russia is preparing to export up to 10,000,000 bushels. Arthur S. Draper, in a London cable to the New York Tribune, is authority for another report that the Bolsheviks delivered about 250 carloads of rye to the Finnish Government and received payment in dollars at the prevailing American rate for grain. According to the report of the Commission on Russian Relief: "The position of the Soviet Government regarding exports is that they are imperatively necessary to break the vicious circle already referred to—underproduction because of the lack of horses and plows, new shortages, famine, further killing and eating of horses, continued underproduction. Quite frankly the authorities state that even at the cost of many deaths from starvation this year, exporting grain is the only way to secure the work animals and implements needed to prevent many more deaths in the future."

There is an illuminating article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week bearing upon the starvation menace which faces Russia in the immediate future. It is illustrated with two maps showing the sections where famine existed last year and the sections where American Relief operates.

GERMAN INVENTED LOGARITHMS CLAIM OF BERLIN SAVANT

Originally Devised by German
Watchmaker, He Says

CASSEL, Germany, March 1.—Logarithms were originally devised by a German watchmaker, according to a statement made by Dr. Friedrich, a prominent scientist, at a meeting here of the German Historical Association.

Dr. Friedrich's assertions were made in the course of an address on the life of William IV, or "William the Wise," whom he described as one of the most remarkable of royal astronomers. William lived during the middle of the 14th century and founded the observatory of the hour of the day, which is the origin of the present day's time.

The speaker also stated that the origin of the logarithm is a German watchmaker, who was a native of Cassel, in the province of Hesse, and who lived in the 14th century.

ENGLAND HAS NEW ORDER RESEMBLING THE KU KLUX KLAN

Strange Secret Society Known as "Order of the Crusader"
Springing Up

LONDON.—A strange secret society known as the Order of the Crusader, which seems to blend with an antique ritual certain points of resemblance to the Ku Klux Klan and the Fascist of Italy is springing up in England.

According to a member of the order it was founded two years ago. During the last two months it has been conducting an intensive campaign for membership, and while it refuses to divulge the number of its members, it claims to have them in every section of Great Britain.

The avowed object of the society is to bring back the spirit of the Crusades to everyday life.

Meetings of the order are held behind closed doors. On ceremonial occasions the members are dressed in a striking garb. Officers wear crimson robes with a large white cross on the left side, and other members adapt a black gown with a white surplice over it, on the breast of which is a red cross.

Some of the emblems of the order are suggestive of a different purpose, however. In the ritual a sword is carried to symbolize "service," and "loyalty" is expressed by carrying banners.

The literature of the order states that it aims at forming "in every ward of each town and in every hamlet a comrade of crusaders, composed of real leaders of public opinion in the locality." Later on they intend to get crusaders into Parliament on county and local councils, in the churches and out of them.

The initiation of candidates as regards time place and ceremony closely resembles the Ku Klux Klan.

When each candidate is initiated he is expected to make a donation of two pounds or more, there being no limit to be set by the officials as they see fit.

EDUCATIONAL BILLS UP FOR HEARING BY JOINT COMMITTEES

Dahl Bill for Creation of Single Board to Handle Higher Schools on Calendar

MILWAUKEE NORMAL FIGHT UP IN COMMITTEE WEDNESDAY

Schedule Hearing on Bill Limiting Length of Trains

MADISON, Wis., March 2.—Repeal of the law creating the educational boards of the state and the creation of a single commission to handle all the higher educational activities will be given a hearing Thursday afternoon by the joint committees on education and public welfare, Senator Guyer's "central educational board" bill will be heard Wednesday by the same committee.

The joint measures which would repeal the laws creating the boards of regents of the normal and the university and the state board of education, was drafted by a non-partisan committee of different members of the legislature and Speaker Dahl declares that a consensus of the assembly shows that the bill will pass the lower house. The bill provides for a board of eleven members of which the state superintendent of public instruction shall be an ex-officio member. The other ten members shall be appointed by the governor for three year terms.

So that the work of the present educational systems may not be disrupted, the joint bill provides that three members of the new board shall be taken from the present board of regents, three from the board of normal regents, and three from the state board of education. The members of the board shall be a council of education shall be a council of education shall be a council of education.

Other educational bills coming for a hearing next week are the Haddock bill providing for the reorganization of territory to high school districts, the Miller bill providing for the consolidation of school districts, and the Hennrichsen measure for increasing the amount of state aid for consolidated and graded schools.

Probably the largest hearing before the legislature for the week will be held by the corporation committee of the senate next Wednesday when the Jock bill limiting the length of railroad trains to a half mile comes up for consideration. Assemblyman Guyer's bill providing for a full train on every 120 mile route comes up the same day.

On Thursday the corporation committee will give a hearing to the Johnson resolution calling upon congress to enact a law, passed in 1921 providing for surtaxes on excessive profits and income. PRETTY FACE AND SMILE—BANK OF ENGLAND YOURS!

SAYS ARRESTED "SHEIK GIRL."

By ROY GIBBONS
NEA Staff Correspondent.
CHICAGO.—A pretty face, an attractive smile and a quarter's worth of paint from the corner drugstore and a girl "can get away with the Bank of England."

So says Wilma McMullin, in jail here, on charges of being the lure and "come over" for a dapper sheik hand which preyed upon wealthy old men.

And the reason why this redneck brings wealth is simply stated by Wilma, as follows:

"Because all men are boobs." Pronouncedly of the flapper type, Wilma declares that, as far back as she can remember in her 19 years, she has got what she wanted just by smiling.

"That's all the pay a girl has to give—just a grin or two," she says. Split profits? No!

Chance taught her the monetary value of a smile. A dental cream manufacturer told her smile as an ad for tooth paste should be worth much money.

If worth money to him, why not to her, without splitting the profits? This thought got her into the game, from which she draws these conclusions:

"It's the old ones that flop hardest—you know the kind I mean, with more dough than they know what to do with. Single or married, it's all the same."

"The poor guys with a bunch of kids are different, though. They're so busy paying bills, they keep away from smiles. They know smiles cost money, and they're afraid of them."

But the other fellows, the ones with their minds full of money and business, they don't get much entertainment, so they grab it when it buggles into 'em."

"You drop some papers or a handkerchief in front of one of 'em, he looks at it and first thing you know he's asking to take you out to lunch."

"But this bunch of fellows police say were my assistants, say they signed as head of Milwaukee normal because the state normal school regents voted to discontinue these courses. Recently the state board of normal regents has issued a statement to the legislature declaring that these courses are impractical and expensive."

The Gary educational bill leaves the regents board of the higher educational institutions as they are, but creates a new state board of education composed of seven members. To be appointed for the first year, but elected thereafter for seven year terms.

COED, IS OWN LAWYER IN MARRIAGE TANGLE
FRESNO, Cal.—Acting as her own attorney, Margaret Jean Ramsey, 18, years old, Fresno State college coed, sent a combination letter-petition to the Superior court, asking annulment of her marriage to William Swanney of Sparks, Nev. The girl says that while on her honeymoon she discovered she was No. 6 in a chain of brides. She also said her husband served a term in the Elmira, N. Y. reformatory for bigamy and was a parolee at the time of their wedding last December. Judges said the letter will have the status of a regularly drawn petition.

BARNARD COLLEGE GIRLS TO VOTE ON A TEN-HOUR DAY

Proposal of Student Board to Go to Undergraduates for Ratification

NEW YORK.—With the eight-hour day for women the predominant cry in industry, a ten-hour day for college women, six days a week, is the proposal just announced for Barnard College by the Board of Student Proposals. This organization after long study, has presented the proposal to the undergraduate body for ratification or disapproval.

The plan proposes a new point system to regulate extra-curricular activity. The Barnard Girls' twenty-four hours they propose shall be divided as follows: eight hours for sleep, two hours for exercise, four hours for meals and incidental duties at home, and ten hours for college activities. It is explained that the new method

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough is Child's Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It

If you want to take care of that bad, hang on cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Farmin (double strength) and mix a half pint of water.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It halts the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clean membrane free from irritation and mucus follows.

For Catarrhal conditions such as mucous droppings, clogged nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Farmin (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

ON THE DEFENSIVE!

During the aftermath of influenza or its debilitating complications, there is more than ordinary need that you nourish and protect every avenue of your strength.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

because of its efficient tonic-nutrient properties, daily helps tens of thousands to renewed strength. Those who are fearful or rundown in vitality should use the means that help build up a healthy resistance.

What SCOTT'S does for others it will do for you.—Try it!

The exclusive grade of cod-liver oil used in Scott's Emulsion is the famous "S. A. B. Process," made in Norway and refined in our own American Laboratories. It is a concentrate of purity and reliability unsurpassed.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

od of extra-curricular activities would be regulated by a point system, in which each point would stand for three hours of work. No student of Barnard, under the system, would be permitted to carry more than an aggregate of 20 points a semester of academic and extra-curricular work combined.

The plan is now up to the student body.

WOMEN'S WAGE LAW PASSES S. D. HOUSE

PIERRE, S. D.—South Dakota's first minimum wage legislation for women went through the house Wednesday when that body passed the bill fixing the minimum wage which can be paid to women workers at $12 a week. The house also passed a measure making 10 hours a day and 54 hours a week the maximum working hours for women with the exception of telegraph and telephone operators. The bill provides that these limitations shall not be in effect during the seven days before Christmas.

"I DIRECT that all my just debts shall be paid," is the customary phraseology of a will.

Strange as it may seem, not all claims presented to an executor for payment are just. Excess claims may arise for many reasons—through errors in accounting or calculation; excessive imposition of taxes; disagreement as to proper fees for services; and other causes, including, in a few cases, actual fraud.

You can guard against the payment of such claims by the appointment of an executor that is experienced in the handling of just such cases, and that can be depended upon to act solely in accordance with your will and in the interests of your beneficiaries. NEW HIGHWAY BILL PLACES ROAD BURDEN ON THE AUTOMOBILE

Measure Taxing Motor Cars on Basis of Weight Ready for Introduction in Legislature

CITIES DEPRIVED OF ANY SHARE IN AUTO REVENUES

Fifteen Percent to be Paid Counties for Roads and Bridges

MADISON, Wis.—By the Associated Press.—The burden of constructing and maintaining 10,000 miles of state trunk highways is placed upon automobiles and removed from property owners by the joint committee on highways weight tax bill finally prepared for introduction into the legislature Friday. This measure if enacted would raise $8,000,000 annually through a graduated license fee based upon weight.

"We are reporting this bill to the senate for action in the belief that it provides an equitable plan for raising the funds needed to further the state's highway program," Senator George Standenmayer, chairman of the committee said. "It shifts the expense of building and maintaining 10,000 mile highway system on to the automobile where it should be placed."

The rates called for in the bill, ranging from $10 on cars under 1600 pounds to $50 on automobiles over 5,000 pounds, and on trucks, have been previously announced. They include a triple fee for motor busses based upon the truck tax charged for a like weight.

Cities receive none of the return from the tax under the plan of distribution contained in the bill. The measure provides that beginning July 1, 1934, fifteen per cent of the total amount collected from the bill shall be turned over to the county treasurers to be used for constructing and maintaining highways and bridges in the counties.

It sets aside $162,000 for administration of the state highway department. Funds necessary to meet federal aid are to be set aside annually. In addition to $785,000 to meet state aid to the counties. An appropriation of $150,000 for bridges is allowed.

"After the above amounts have been set aside," the bill says, "the remainder of the 85 per cent shall be allotted by the state highway commission to the several counties for the maintenance of the state trunk highway system lying within said counties. Each county shall be entitled to receive $200 for each mile of the state trunk highway system and in addition the proportion of the fund remaining after the above amounts have been set aside but in no case to exceed $100."

"The highway commission is authorized and directed to make the necessary investigation, and add to the state trunk highway system an additional mileage of highways, not to exceed 10,000 miles. Every mile of interstate and intrastate highway selected by the commission as part of the federal and highway system shall be a part of the 10,000 mile state trunk highway system."

Under the weight tax the different classes of vehicles would be designated by numbers.

The highway bill will occasion a hard fight in both houses where proponents of the gas tax and of a weight tax are vying their ideas. It is expected that a substitute amendment will be offered to the committee bill when it reaches the floor. This will result in a fight over the issues involved.

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD FOR "POISON CASE" SISTERS

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—(A. P.)—A double funeral was held Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Sigrid Loberg, 85 years old, and her sister, Mrs. Hester Digne, 75, who died within a few hours of each other following a brief illness. The two women figured in the "poison peaches" case, one of the most sensational murder trials ever held here.

In March, 1921, Mrs. Anna Mathieson, daughter of Mrs. Loberg, was tried on a charge of killing her husband, John Mathieson, with her cousin, Carl Digne, son of Mrs. Digne, charged as an accomplice. Mathieson was slain according to the state, through the medium of poisoned peaches.

The defendants were acquitted of the charge.

TOMAH'S NATIONAL GUARD COMPANY IS WINNER OF TROPHY

Graham Prize Goes to Infantrymen for Marksmanship; Mrs. Lee Buried

TOMAH, Wis.—Headquarters Company 128th Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, of this city is proudly displaying the Graham trophy awarded for superiority in marksmanship. It is a silver loving cup eighteen inches high with a portrait of Colonel Graham engraved on one side, the names of winners on another side and a target design on a third side. The trophy was donated by the state to the National Guard of Wisconsin, in honor of the late Colonel George Graham of Tomah. It is indeed fitting that the name of the Tomah Company be inscribed upon the trophy and it is the only Company outside of the First Regiment to have that honor. Colonel Graham was state inspector of small arms practice for many years and was the organizer of Company K Third Regiment W. N. G.

A boost for municipal ownership of utilities is shown in the water department of this city the past year. Earnings from commercial sales, fire protection, street sprinkling, and municipal departments totaled $11,242.22, while running expenses including depreciation, taxes, interest on funded debt amounted to $10,310.11. Thus a favorable balance of $932.11 is shown for the municipal utility.

Funeral services were held in this city on Wednesday morning for Sadie Boyd Lee, wife of William A. Lee of this city, who died on Sunday Feb. 25 at the age of sixty-two years. She had always made her home in eastern Monroe county and is mourned by a wide circle of friends. She is survived by her husband, W. A. Lee, daughter Mrs. Emory Smith of Chicago and son Ray Lee also of Chicago. Tomah chapter Order of The Eastern Star conducted the burial service at Oak Lawn cemetery, following a simple funeral service at the family residence in this city.

"TORTURE VICTIM" REMAINS AS YET UNIDENTIFIED
ELGIN, Ill.—(A. P.)—Physicians representing the office of Sheriff William E. Orr of Kane county will shortly hold an autopsy over the body of Geneva's "torture victim" in an effort to uncover some clue that might aid authorities in identifying the murdered man.

Sheriff Orr is working on the one theory that the victim was the member of some beer runner's gang and was done away with because he "knew too much."

The victim's handless, mutilated, charred remains are daily being viewed by a curious stream of people at Geneva.

CIVIL SERVICE MEANS DOWNFALL OF NATION DECLARES WEBER

County Agents Replace Institutes
Claims Assemblyman

MADISON, Wis.—Two time-honored institutions in Wisconsin may be swept into the discard. The assembly by large votes has advanced the Oliver bill to repeal the state civil service system and the Miller bill to wipe out the system of farmers' institutes in the state.

The state civil service commission was created during the close of the La Follette administration under a bill offered by Assemblyman Ernest N. Warner, Dane county. A recent report indicates there are approximately 3,000 employees under civil service performing 225 different types of work.

To fill the positions under civil service the commission holds about eight-to-ten competitive examinations a year. Those qualified are certified to the appointing officers for positions in order of their rank.

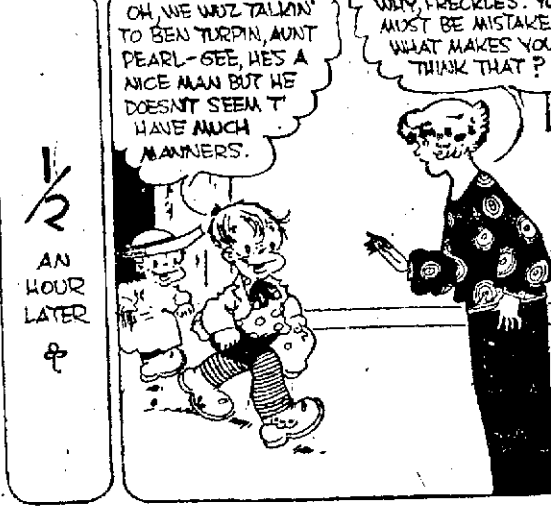

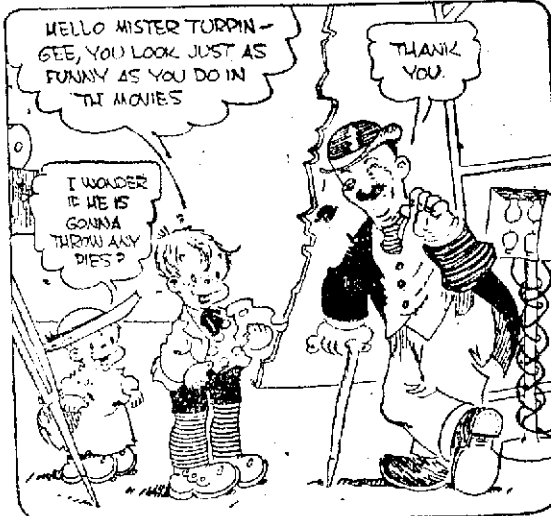

Two main speeches against the present civil service commission were made by Assemblymen Frank Weber, Milwaukee, and James Oliver, Green Bay. Weber claimed that the civil service plan had caused the downfall of all republics.

Farmers institutes have been held to the state for the past twenty-five years. The main argument made in favor of abolishing the system was advanced by Assemblyman G. W. Schmidt of Clark county. He said that the county agent plan and the farmers' institute systems duplicated each other; that formerly it was well to teach the farmer how to make three blades of grass grow where one grew before. Now it was different. He related that the farmer now needed instruction in cooperation and marketing his crops.

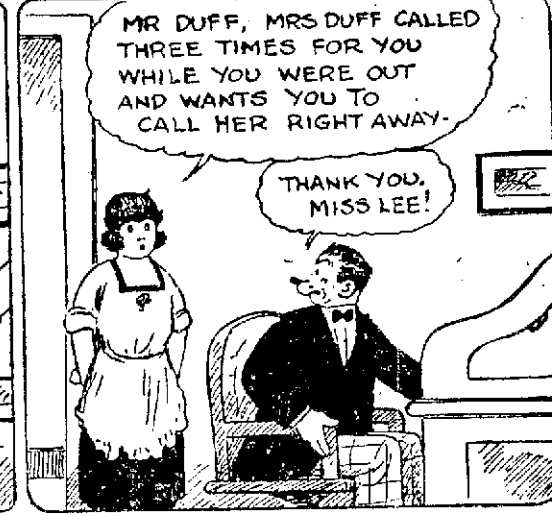

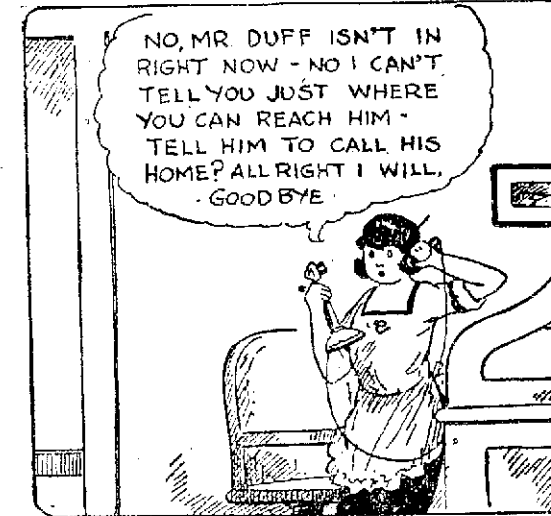

In spite of the large vote by which the Oliver bill was advanced, there will still be another fight over the measure. Assemblyman George Nelson, Polk county, moved a reconsideration of the vote on Friday. Nelson is the president of the Wisconsin Farmers' Union and he claimed that there was an increasing number of farmers attending the institutes each year. In one of the papers in Barron county the attendance was 750.

During the past few days the house voted to wipe out the plan of holding

BOATSMAN PREDICTS EARLY OPENING OF LAKE NAVIGATION

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Regular patrol and tower watch of the Coast guard started for the season Thursday at the coast guard station on Minnesota Point. That navigation will open in Superior Duluth harbor within ten or fifteen days if the present warm weather continues, was the prediction of D. Magnusson, boatsman in charge following observations he made of harbor ice and conditions on the first day of his active duty for 1923. Opening of navigation as predicted by Mr. Magnusson, would record one of the earliest seasons of traffic activity in the local harbor, he explained. Reports he had received from points on the lake indicate that there is little ice in Lake Superior, he declared.

HOBBO COLLEGE IN CHICAGO CHANGES ITS CURRICULUM

Courses in Public Speaking, Hygiene and Economics are Offered

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press. The Hobbo college here has changed its curriculum and in person and in spirit. The new curriculum, which was announced last week, is a departure from the old one. It is a more practical one, and it is more up-to-date. It includes courses in public speaking, hygiene and economics. It also includes courses in English, history and geography. The college is now open to all who are interested in these subjects. It is a place where you can learn and grow.

After the formal opening in September, a group of leaders, including the college's first president, Dr. James H. Hobb, and several other prominent men, met to discuss the future of the college. They decided to make it a more practical one, and to make it more up-to-date. They also decided to make it a place where you can learn and grow. The college is now open to all who are interested in these subjects. It is a place where you can learn and grow.

At present, while the college is still in its infancy, it is already showing signs of growth. It is a place where you can learn and grow. It is a place where you can learn and grow. It is a place where you can learn and grow.

DAUGHTER COLLAPSES ON STAND IN TREPTE TRIAL IN MILWAUKEE

Called to Testify for Mother Accused of Shooting Her Husband

MILWAUKEE.—Bertha Trepte, returning to the stand in Municipal court late Thursday afternoon, as a witness for the defense in the trial of her mother, Mrs. Elsie Trepte, on a charge of murder, collapsed while testifying.

Mrs. Trepte, who shot and killed her husband, president of the Globe Wire and Iron works, in their home, 1350 Twelfth street, on Jan. 5, 1922, will testify in her own behalf on Friday. Attorney W. H. Bennett, her counsel, announced.

Tells of Injury

The state rested its case at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon after District Attorney Shanley had introduced as evidence the transcript of a statement made to him by Mrs. Trepte the day following the shooting. The contents of the statement were almost identical to those in the one introduced earlier in the day by Capt. Harry McCray, chief of detectives.

In the statement Mrs. Trepte claimed she did not remember anything very much after 11 a. m. on the day of the shooting. She said she felt dazed and unable to recall the events of the day.

To freshen face, hold it for a few seconds in the steam from a kettle, and dry quickly.

OVER FOUR MILLION VISITED GETTYSBURG DURING 1922 SEASON

New Records for Tourist Travel to Historic Battlefield Looked for This Year

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—Increasing interest in the historic battlefield at Gettysburg, where the decisive conflict of the civil war was fought July 1, 2 and 3, 1863, has been developing among Americans since the world war, in the opinion of members of the Gettysburg battlefield commission.

Estimates, compiled in the commission's office here, which place the number of visitors to the field in 1922 at more than 4,000,000, from the basis of this belief. These figures show an increase of approximately 1,500,000 over the number who came here in 1921.

For two years after the close of the European war the smallest crowds in twenty years visited the field, and it was thought the interest of Americans had been turned from their own historic spots to the battle-grounds of Europe. The throngs that have fanned the field in the last two years have dispelled this belief.

The year 1922 brings the sixtieth anniversary of the battle and new records are looked for.

WARNS AGAINST USE OF OIL IN STARTING FIRES

Mail of Oil Inspector Filled With Notices of Deaths and Accidents

MADISON, Wis.—The mail of T. J. Cunningham, state oil inspector, Wednesday was filled with notices of deaths and accidents from starting fires with oil. The unusual feature was that there were two accounts of death by using gasoline. Ordinarily such deaths are caused by kerosene, yet here were two by gasoline. "This is the tragedy department," said Mr. Cunningham. "In spite of the many warnings constantly given by our inspectors, by fire marshals and the industrial commission and insurance companies people will start fires with explosive oils, thinking there is no danger because they have never been blown up. Yet there were twelve deaths in and around Beloit in a year from this cause."

One of the two gasoline victims reported was Joe Tieck, a Grant county farmer, who found the fire in his stove was not burning well and poured some gasoline on it from a red can. An explosion followed and he died next day. His wife and baby were also burned. The other victim was Charles H. Esly of Hawkins, Rusk county. He also poured gasoline on his fire from a red can and died the next day.

The same mail had three notices of kerosene accidents. At Antigo, several children playing with kerosene were burned. At De Pere, the home of Mike Lee was badly damaged by the explosion of a torch used in thawing frozen pipes. At Stevens Point, Raymond Freda, aged 17, was badly burned starting a fire with kerosene. He saved his life by jumping into a snowbank clad only in underwear.

"Too great care cannot be taken in the use of explosives in starting fires," says Mr. Cunningham. "The deadly oil can should be discarded for this purpose. If people would soak their kindling with oil before putting it in the stove it would keep, but many people are too impatient to do this and so have accidents."

POLA GIVES CHARLIE THE AIR, BUT TAKES HIM ON AGAIN LATER

Chaplin's Statement He Was "Too Poor to Marry" Brings Renunciation by Actress

FILM FOLK PATCH UP BROKEN ENGAGEMENT AFTER SIX HOURS

"Charlie Needs Rich Wife" is Statement of Pola Negri

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Pola Negri and Charles Chaplin, motion picture stars, were engaged again Friday after having endured six hours of anguish Thursday night when Miss Negri broke their engagement to marry because she read in a newspaper a statement evolved to her effect that he was "too poor to marry," just now.

Rumors they were engaged interested picture fans everywhere when they were first published, November 25, last, and the interest was maintained when the principals officially confirmed rumors at Pebble Beach, near San Francisco, January 28.

At that time Chaplin declared he was "the happiest man in the world," and Miss Negri indicated she was well pleased, indeed, with "Charlie," as she calls him. So everything seemed to be running smoothly and everybody was expecting the date of the wedding soon would be set definitely for Thursday when Chaplin was quoted as stating "I am too poor to get married just now. This is a work-a-day world and we've got to stay busy, and keep away from climates of sentiment."

Needs Rich Wife

Twelve hours later Miss Negri issued a statement reading: "I consider I am too poor to marry Charles Chaplin. He needs a wealthy woman, and he should have no difficulty in finding one in the United States, the richest and most beautiful in the world. Therefore, I give Mr. Chaplin his freedom and release him from his engagement. I wish him the best of luck and I will always be his devoted friend."

That statement was typewritten. Pressed for details the tragedienne's lips trembled and her eyes filled with tears as she replied "there were a thousand things. It is another experience. A woman must learn by experience. I have learned. Now I will live only for my work. All the rest—the happy days—are dead to me. It is all over."

Chaplin said "no," and the fact that when newspaper men informed him of what Miss Negri had done and said, and hung up the telephone and hurriedly left his home while he thought.

Patch It Up

As a result of that thinking, and while newshounds called until night editions of the morning papers in the Hollywood district informed him that "Pola" said "Charlie" was "out," he sought the residence of his fiancée.

Just what happened then probably will never be given to the world in detail. But after midnight Charlie went home with a smile on his face and Miss Negri, her finger again weighted with the platinum engagement ring she had removed a few hours previously, was contemplating her joy, "too happy to sleep," she said.

ZOELLNER QUARTET HERE SATURDAY AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

It is an unbroken rule of the members of the Zoellner Quartette, who appear here in a recital Saturday evening, March 2, at the Normal school on the Normal lecture course, when on tour, never to overlook an opportunity for rehearsal which a few spare moments may afford. Thus they entered in keeping the high mark of artistry, as well as continuing adding new works to their list. "I never feel satisfied till we have accomplished our day's rehearsal," said Mr. Joseph Zoellner, Sr., the father and founder of this wonderful organization, when discussing this phase of their labors, "but we sometimes have to work under great disadvantages and unpropitious conditions to accomplish it."

Occasionally they practice in a drawing room of a Pullman, or in a small stuffy depot when compelled to change trains and have a wait of several hours, the particular juncture point of a size and time best described in the local lingo as a "broad place in the road." When the Zoellners desire to practice, no inconvenience of any description whatsoever can prevent them from carrying out their wishes. This continual striving for perfection explains their being leaders as "one of the great quartets of the world."

A Wisconsin house will be built in the colony wherever established, it was announced.

WIFE NO. 1 IS AUTHOR OF "DON'T LOPE" SCENARIO

KENOSHA, Wis.—Mrs. Edith Thomas, who has figured as wife No. 1 in the tangled marital affairs of Charles Watson, now in jail here awaiting trial, has written of scenario which has been purchased by a leading movie concern. Its title is "Life's Greatest Blunder," and its motif is the old adage, "Marry in haste and repent at leisure."

"CONFIDENCE"

Herbert Rawlinson appears on the screen of the Majestic theater at his best this week in "Confidence," a Bernard Hyman story, adapted to the screen by Raymond L. Schrock, scenario editor at Universal City.

Rawlinson portrays in his own inimitable style a traveling salesman, sent out upon an assignment where, on his must either make good and land a contract or lose his job. He doesn't land the contract, but he sells his prospect's daughter the idea of matrimony and wins her for his wife. He is fired, of course, but that doesn't discourage him in the least. Gaining new confidence and self-assurance, he suddenly discovering that he is rich, he sets about establishing one of the world's greatest industrial plants right there in that little two cylinder town.

LLOYD AT THE STRAND TODAY

There was a time that motion picture producers, when trying to apologize for a poor picture, used to fall back on the excuse that "you can't make 'em all good."

Motion pictures, of course, are not standard product. It is true that you cannot make them all meet with certain specifications, but Harold Lloyd for three years now has been disproving that fallacy that you "can't make 'em all good."

On his latest, "Dr. Jack," he held four previews before four different classes of theatre-goers, one more than he ordinarily stages on his pictures. "Dr. Jack," by the way, is his first feature comedy on his new Paramount contract, it will be shown today at the Strand Theater.

CASINO TODAY

The latest work of Allan Dwan, one of the foremost directors of the producing art, entitled "The Hidden Woman," will be the main attraction today at the Casino. "The Hidden Woman" is a feature distinctly out of the ordinary in that it hits upon a theme which, while close to the hearts of all people, has very seldom been elaborated upon for screen use. Ann Wesley, the principal character in the picture, is hiding her real self, her honest, respectable personality, because she believes that her assumption of exterior irresponsibility and recklessness will thus attract the men of her acquaintance.

"MIGHTY LAK A ROSE"

In the slum of New York there are certain dark and mysterious regions, notorious for the past they have played in the criminal records of the city. These regions have been studied and carefully reproduced with their streets, their tenements, their pawnshops and bawdy gaudies and children, for the production of "Mighty Lak a Rose," at the Rivoli Theater this week. There is a record in the studio reproduction of the famous Chicago Hill district near Brooklyn Bridge, the notorious "Landlady's Room" and "Murderers' Alley."

COMING FILM CONVINCING

Carrying the conviction of a personal lecture on the subject, "The Message of Emile Coue," the two reel motion picture made by Emile Coue, which is being shown at the Rivoli Theater, marks a distinct step forward in cinema presentation. This picture presents the fundamentals of M. Coue's theory of self-mastery through conscious auto-suggestion. The name is not as formidable as it sounds, and M. Coue's message is amazingly simple.

CASINO SUNDAY

JUDGE CHALLENGES PASTOR TO DEBATE SUBJECT OF WAR

Badger Tax Commissioner in Tiff With Chaplain of Red Arrow Division

MADISON, Wis.—Judge Charles D. Rosa, of the Wisconsin tax commission and the Rev. Gustav Stearns, chaplain of the thirty-second division overseas, had a personal altercation in the legislative lobbies Thursday night over the subject of war.

When Judge Rosa came out of the hearing on the bill to abolish the National Guard, he found Rev. Stearns arguing with a member of the house at the head of Portsmouth, England.

the Wisconsin Women's Progressive association.

"It seems to me," the judge said, "that ministers of the gospel who glorify war and seek to gloss over the immoralities that are necessarily connected with it, are doing more to undermine the church than all the forces outside."

This the minister took exception to, with the result that Judge Rosa challenged him to debate the subject "at any time, any place and before any audience." The tiff ended at this point.

Reverend Stearns spoke in the assembly chamber of the legislature Thursday night in defense of the Wisconsin National Guard.

FRANKIE GENARO IS NEW RULER OF THE 112-POUNDERS

Pancho Villa is Deposed and Loses Chance to Meet Jimmy Wilde

NEW YORK.—Frankie Genaro, the East side boy who won the world's amateur championship of his class in the last Olympics, today won the new American flyweight champion, ruler of the 112-pounders.

The deposed monarch is Pancho Villa, the mightiest mite of a fighter who has ever come out of the Philippines. He is a sad boy, today, strangled by the force of his chance to meet Jimmy Wilde, of England, world's champion of the fly kingdom.

Until it was two-thirds over, the fight was slow because both men were extremely cautious, standing more than an arm's length from each other in scowling poses, moving slowly like cats to spring suddenly like tigers, lashing out with lightning-like punches.

Villa appeared more aggressive, but he was a shade more tired at the last going. Their punches seemed of about equal force, their defenses were largely similar. The decision was on a hairline reasoning and might have been based on any number of conditions. Genaro was named on the basis of his longer arms, but he seemed to have the upper hand in the longest. The two gave something to the game and audience, but one of the most spectacular bouts the historic arena has ever housed.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE VOTES TO CUT CITY'S BASEBALL PERCENTAGE DOWN ONE-HALF

THE SPECIAL baseball committee, composed of W. P. Roellig, president of the common council, and Aldermen Funk and Mahoney, in a conference with representatives of the Montague and Nelson baseball clubs Thursday night, voted unanimously to cut the percentage paid to the city from the receipts at Copeland park grandstand to 10 per cent.

While the action of the committee in the matter is not final, there is believed to be no possibility of its being reversed. The committee will meet again with the common council when it next convenes on March 9.

Representing the Montague club at the meeting were W. R. Montague, president, Frank Redleson, business manager, and Joe Collins, field manager. H. J. Wittenberg, business manager, and Oscar Solberg, secretary and treasurer, represented the Nelson club.

$700 More Per Team

Based on their estimates on last year's receipts, it was announced that the reduction to 10 per cent will mean an additional $700 to each team. Nelson players last year split approximately $200 per team, an average of about $5 each game, while the maintenance of the Montague team cost the city last year about $2,700. Mr. Montague stated that while he was willing to accept the reduction, he believed that amount to be excessive.

BATTLEGROUND OF INTERNATIONAL RIVALRY IN SPORTS SHIFTS FROM U. S. TO GREAT BRITAIN THIS YEAR

NEW YORK.—The battleground of international rivalry in sports will shift this year from the United States to Great Britain.

The program of events arranged for the Olympics at London, the first time in different branches of competition, concentrated on this side of the Atlantic, last season, will take place abroad this year. In several instances the United States will defend its championship honors on foreign fields and waters.

While the final Davis cup matches will be held in this country again, with America defending its team title, leading contests in golf, yacht racing and track and field sports will be staged on the other side.

The Walker cup, emblematic of the amateur team golf championship, successfully defended here last season by America, will be contested for in Britain. Several stars change their minds before spring, it is unlikely that the United States will be able to muster its strongest array for the invasion in May.

The American amateurs also will compete in the British individual in June.

TEAMS TO COMPETE IN ASHLAND MEET HAVE BEEN PICKED

ASHLAND, Wis.—The teams which compete in Ashland on March 8, 9 and 10, in the Superior district high school tournament, have been designated by the district managers.

Ashland, Washburn, Bayfield, Melton, Ladysmith, Hawkins, Spooner and Superior Central schools will have teams here to determine the one to represent the northern half of the state at the state tournament. Twelve games will be played starting Thursday March 5, with one game at 2 p. m. another at 4 p. m. and two in the evening, Friday and Saturday programs are the same.

GALESVILLE MAY HAVE MAUSOLEUM

At the annual meeting of the Galesville Cemetery association which was held on February 21st a committee headed by J. C. Curran and J. O. Halderman was named to investigate as to the different plans and cost of a mausoleum at the local cemetery.

In 1912 the cemetery was enlarged into Canada and numbered 15,000.

year, Montague stated that he contemplated producing a ball club this year capable of competing with such teams as the Oshkosh and even teams of a caliber of the American association. He was of the opinion that La Crosse fans wanted this brand of baseball, and that it was his intention to bring such teams here.

North Side Wants Club

Speaking for the Nelson club, Wittenberg said that the north side wanted a ball team. He believed that the team would need at least $2,500 at the outset with which to build up an aggregation worthy of putting in the field. Players cannot be held in La Crosse, he said, when surrounding towns are capable of paying the men better salaries or splits at the end of the season than La Crosse is capable of.

With the reduction of percentage in force, it was the opinion that the Nelson club would again be in the field this year. Representatives of both teams are agreed that baseball would thrive better with competition between two teams and it goes without saying that the entire city wants to see two clubs. In this reduction, the team manager could see hope of assuring players a more equitable split at the end of the season.

However, Nelson officials could not announce either way whether the north side would have a club this year. They indicated that fans were getting warmed up over the possibility of not having a team, and that as a result of this, something would likely break within a short time.

Cost City $100

It was brought out in the discussion that baseball in La Crosse, together with the grandstand and all baseball equipment at Copeland park, stands the city approximately $100. The Copeland park grandstand and bleachers were paid for out of baseball receipts represented in the 20 per cent taken by the city.

New improvements are contemplated at the park this spring, for which the city will stand the expense. The improvement includes dug-outs for the teams, a roof over one of the bleachers, preferably the east side, and an air in the center section of the grandstand.

Coach Keogan's Quintet to Battle Eau Claire on Saturday Night

One more game remains on the Red and Black schedule before the district tournament commences March 9. This is the return game with Eau Claire high school on the latter's floor which will be played off Saturday night. The local quintet will leave Saturday morning.

Coach Keogan's squad has won nine straight victories so far this season and although they expect a hard game Saturday, there is little doubt but what they will make it the tenth win if they keep the pace that has succeeded in heading some of the hardest teams in this section of the state. The La Crosse team has developed a powerful defense which showed up to marked advantage in their victory over the two Madison teams last week.

Solz, who has done a great deal of excellent guarding for the locals this year is now on the sick list and it is quite probable that he will not appear in the lineup Saturday.

La Crosse had little trouble in subduing the Eau Claire aggregation on the local floor but will surely meet with a harder proposition when they invade the Eau Claire camp.

NEW PITTSBURG MANAGER PROFITS BY MISTAKES OF FORMER LEADER

PITTSBURG.—An experiment, tried by George Gibson in starting the 1923 season with the Pittsburgh Pirates is answered with the familiar line: "You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

Although Max Carey had been recognized as one of the most brilliant center fielders in the National League and Carson Bigbee the equal of anything in left field, Gibson switched these two stars in opening the season. Carey moved over to left and Bigbee was in center.

Of course, Gibson had a motive for such a change. What it was no one ever learned, but the Pirates lost the first three games to the Cardinals in St. Louis with Carey in left and Bigbee in center.

As the center fielder Bigbee misjudged drives that Carey could have caught with his eyes closed.

And there was Max over there in left field unable to get the focus and the range of things in his strange home.

After the series with the Cardinals Gibson admitted that he had blundered and Max was back in center, while Bigbee was in left.

The peculiar part about it all is, that the Pirates with their regular combination in the field went out and won six straight games. Max was snatching those low and long drives, while Bigbee was going to the edge of the left field wall and over to the foul line for spectacular catches.

"What about the Pirates as a perennial contender this year?" Bill McKechnie, manager, was asked recently.

"All that I can tell you about the Pirates at this moment," answered Bill, "is that Max Carey will play center field and Bigbee will be in left."

MEMBERS OF BADGER SENATE GROWING MORE CAUTIOUS AS ASSEMBLY RADICALISM GAINS

MADISON, Wis., March 2.—(By The Associated Press.)—Senator Joseph A. Trask, of Chisholm, Minn., is coming to take the position more seriously and to show evidence of an increasing caution as the assembly goes on. It was demonstrated a general lack of anything or any policy that has caused dissatisfaction. In the lower house, overwhelming majorities are voting to override committee reports, to abolish departments of state government with little discussion and to vote favorably on all sorts of proposals suggested by members regardless of their object. At the same time, the senate is becoming more cautious.

even some votes in the upper house, but first the senators say they must be shown on the personal property tax offset where relief will be afforded. Repeat of the secrecy clause of the income tax is on its way definitely. The proposal has gone through the senate by a large vote. It will meet little opposition in the lower house which already had accepted it in the Dahl general income tax bill. These tax measures are not concerning the senate so much as some of the more radical moves that are being made in the assembly. Abolition of the national guard will be blocked when it reaches the floor of the senate. Few more than three votes will be recorded in its favor, but the guard is to get a decided cut in appropriation. Abolition of the state civil service will not meet with favor in the upper house despite the large vote in the assembly. This radical suggestion will be opposed by the governor and the move to push it through stopped in the senate. Leaders in the lower house are about ready to throw up their hands and accept whatever comes. There seems to be no stemming of the tide of legislation from that body on almost any conceivable subject. This attitude is taken as a general expression of disapproval with the way the state government has been going along. In the senate, however, all factions are beginning to realize that they must give serious consideration to many of the measures that are going through the assembly.

While individual actions are appearing radical, the general opinion is that when the legislation of the session is ready for the governor, it will be greatly tempered.

GREAT AMERICAN CATHEDRAL TO RIVAL WESTMINSTER ABBEY TO BE BUILT IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—By The Associated Press.—Plans for immediate construction of a great American National Cathedral, larger than Westminster Abbey and rivaling the celebrated structures of Europe were announced here at the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington.

During ten million dollars, and with its great central tower rising above the Washington monument, the great edifice is planned to take the form of a cross, the plan of which is the basis of the plan of the cathedral.

The plan is to be a national shrine, a place of pilgrimage for the people of the nation, and a place of worship for the people of the world.

Planned as National Shrine

The plan contemplates more than a national shrine; they embrace a national cathedral.

Although the construction of a cathedral on the heights of Mount St. Alban, in the northwest section of Washington, has been going on since for some time, it was not until recently that it was decided to raise the funds to complete the edifice immediately as a national undertaking.

Making the announcement today, the Right Reverend Alfred T. Hardy, Bishop of Washington, pointed out that at the last general convention of the Episcopal Church both houses unanimously adopted a resolution recommending the erection of a great cathedral to be the center of the spiritual life of the nation.

The Right Reverend Hardy said that the plan of the cathedral was now before the church and church members of the world. We are convinced that this cathedral for Christ in the heart of the nation will be a place of pilgrimage for the people of the world, and a place of worship for the people of the world.

Site is Ready

Beginning in a comparatively small way, the first Bishop of Washington, the late Henry Yates Sayre, made it his life's work to acquire a site for the cathedral, which has since been enlarged to comprise sixty-four acres on the heights of the Northwest section, overlooking the Potomac, and with the national capital spread below in panorama. Already on the property is a school for girls, the building the gift of the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst. There is also a large school building for which was given by Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnston, niece of President Buchanan, in memory of her two sons, John Buchanan and Henry Elliott. The Bishop's home which stands in the cathedral grounds was the gift of Mrs. Susan E. Murray. In the heart of the cathedral grounds an exquisite garden of roses which, unfortunately, will be lost in the completed cathedral. It was presented by the Archbishop, Dean and Chapter of Canterbury Cathedral, England. A great stone Peace Cross also stands in the grounds, erected at the close of the great American war and dedicated by the late President McKinley.

Prepare Designs

The cathedral has been designed by one of the greatest English architects, the late George F. Bodley and his American associate the late Henry Bacon. It has been pronounced one of the most beautiful in the world. It will be seen that in its design the cathedral will be a place of pilgrimage for the people of the world, and a place of worship for the people of the world.

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME.

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—There is small likelihood that the senate will agree with the assembly upon the bill to abolish the National Guard, but the passage of the measure by a nearly two-thirds vote of the assembly has advertised the state rather unfavorably. Apparently the socialists who assisted the administration to organize the legislature are determined to get some of their extreme measures through. The situation is an interesting one. The next few weeks will settle the question whether the socialist tail is to wag the dog, or the administration is to control the tail.

It was a field day on Wednesday when the big manufacturing interests of the state appeared to fight the administration's tax measure. Regardless of whether the measure to the manufacturing industry which bills considered present is as serious as was made to appear, there is a serious situation created by the introduction of inadequately considered bills. So far as can be ascertained the two important tax bills, the Dahl and the Severson bills now before the legislature were prepared and introduced without any consultation whatever with the tax commission. In other words the most experienced men in the state in tax matters, and these in the service of the state where they could be called upon for counsel, were wholly ignored by the framers of the bills. This is the chief menace of this legislature, that the desire of members to get into the limelight and to crowd through radical measures leads to a complete ignoring of history and of the experience of those best informed on the subjects.

An interesting political situation has developed in the capital. The Capital Times, a progressive organ of marked zeal, is the chief supporter in the state of Senator La Follette. In senion and out it sings the praises of the senior senator. But from being first rather cool toward Gov. Blaine it has developed into a strong opponent of the chief executive. It has gone so far as to charge that the governor was trifling with the enforcement of the prohibition law. Now it assails the board of control, all the members of which are Blaine's appointees and charges that there has been some questionable work done in connection with paroling convicts. While the Times seems to center its criticism upon the board of control, it is really raising the question of the governor's attitude toward the parole of a well-known convict.

Senator Garey has introduced a bill abolishing the present state board of education and creating a new board to take its place, which presents a striking contrast to the bill introduced a week ago by Assemblyman Dahl. The Garey bill makes the state superintendent the executive head of the new board with his assistant as secretary of the board. Six other members to be appointed by the governor make up the board of seven. The bill would give the new board as complete control over educational affairs including the educational budget as the present board has. The chief difference between the two bills is that the Dahl bill abolishes the regents of the university and normal schools, and really places the entire control of the educational policy of the state in the hands of the secretary of the board, who is to be the chief executive officer. The Garey bill on the other hand leaves the board of regents as they are, and reduces the cost of administering the laws pertaining to education, by making the state superintendent and his assistant, already salaries officials of the state, the active officers of the board.

HISTORY OF THE LETTER TRACED IN ADDRESS OF POSTOFFICE OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON.—From the use of the albatross in biblical times to the speedy flying mail plane of today, the history of the letter, as a written means of communication between peoples, was traced by Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover in a speech recently to postmasters and postal employees in a postal conference convention at Winston-Salem, N. C.

"On the post office job," he said, "nothing can take the place of the individual. While in many great industries the human equation has been reduced to a minimum, in one has not been created anything. To take the place of a man in the delivery of letters today is a hundred percent more we are dependent on the nerve and the sense of locality of a human being for the prompt delivery of our mail regardless of the weather and everything else."

"The history of the postal service goes back as far as the fifth century B. C. and may be called the handmaid of civilization and trace it from the dispatch of the Assyrian and Roman times to the airplane service of the present day, the postal business has doubled in the last decade while the number of employees has increased only nine percent.

"The use of postage stamps is now so common and the mailing of letters so general that it seems as if there never was a time when this practice was unknown. But the stamp itself is comparatively new, while the sending of letters is older than Solomon."

"The Book of Esther is the Bible tells of how King Ahasuerus, learning from Queen Esther that Haman had ordered the death of all the Jews, commanded Mordecai to call together the robes and send letters to every province of the kingdom forbidding the massacre. This is the verse that describes the sending of the messenger."

"And he wrote in the King Ahasuerus' name and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback and riders on mules, camels and young domestic animals."

"The Romans, too, sent their letters by mounted couriers. The courier carried the message about twenty miles when he would come to a post where another messenger was stationed with a fresh horse. He in turn, would be relieved by still another courier. Thus relay after relay the letter was sped on until at last it arrived at its destined 'post,' meaning station or stopping place, and from that word we obtain the word 'post' as found in post office, postcard and many similar words."

"In the times of Benjamin Franklin, each letter was charged for by the sheet instead of by weight and also for the distance it was carried. Ten cents was charged for one sheet, 20 cents for two sheets; and so on, and for every fifty miles another full fee was added. Envelopes were not used in those days. The letter simply being folded up and sealed."

"And now, as we come to the staggering figures showing the growth of this great business in every single hour of the 24 hours are mailed 1,400,000 letters and in every day of the year, 33,000,000 letters slip into the box. To carry this great volume of letters, there are fourteen billion postage stamps, 57 million special delivery stamps, 33 million newspaper wrappers, 62 million postage due stamps used on short paid mail matter and a billion postal cards printed and sold, and all counted, we used and sold 18 billion mails during the last fiscal year. And, again to carry this vast quantity of mail we operate a very large motor truck service, having in operation today 4,433 motor vehicles, and then in the carrying of this volume of mail by railroad it requires 21,000 rail way mail clerks who cover 215,000 miles daily."

Make Bread That Can't Be Beat

Pour into the bread pan one pint of sweet milk, add to it one pint of boiling water, and let stand until lukewarm. Add a lump of butter the size of a small hen's egg, a teaspoon of salt, and the yeast cake, dissolved in one cup of cold water. Fill in the BIG JO FLOUR slowly, beating with a spoon as long as the batter can be moved in that way, then knead with both hands until the dough leaves the pan clean. Transfer to a floured board, where it must be kneaded lightly, but quickly, until filled with air bubbles. The more it is tossed and shaken, the better for it. Dust the pan lightly with BIG JO FLOUR and lay the bread in it; cover with a clean, heavy cloth and set in a warm corner to rise.

When risen properly, which takes from five to seven hours, or until the dough has doubled its size, then shape the loaves of bread and place them again in the warm corner, covered, until they rise to three quarters the height of the pan; then bake in a moderate oven from forty minutes to an hour.

Milk will always make more tender bread than water, but half and half is the usual ratio.

If milk is sterilized the bread will keep fresh much longer.

POPULARITY OF CANNED FOODS

A National Canned Foods Week discussion of the wholesomeness, economy, convenience, and thorough sterilization of canned foods.

"Canned foods are simply natural foods cooked and sterilized by heat. The nutritive value of canned foods is the same or greater than that of corresponding raw food purchased in the open market and cooked in the kitchen," says a statement calling attention to National Canned Foods Week, March 3-10. "For instance, the nutritive value of canned peas or spinach is the same as that of fresh peas or spinach bought and cooked in the home. In the case of canned peaches, the nutritive value is the same as that of the fresh fruit if sliced and cooked in sugar."

"They have," said H. M. Loomis, of the National Canners Association, "the same content of protein, fat, sugar, starch, and so on. In the case of canned evaporated milk, the nutritive value is greater than that of fresh milk because in the canning process milk is concentrated to about one-half of its original volume."

Canning Industry Based upon Scientific Principles. "Foods which are perishable and seasonal in character must be preserved in some way if they are to be made available the year around. In the case of fruits, vegetables and milk, canning or drying are common methods of preservation. The Canning Industry is based on scientific principles, though this fact was not generally realized by the industry until the last ten or fifteen years."

"Dr. E. O. Jordan, Professor of Bacteriology of the University of Chicago, says: 'The process of preserving foods by heat possesses the enormous advantage that the vast majority of known disease germs are killed by even a few minutes exposure to the temperature of boiling. The use of cooked foods, therefore, constitutes one of our greatest safeguards against the entrance of disease germs and other parasites through the mouth.'

Economy of Canned Foods

"As far as flavor is concerned, there is, of course, the same difference between canned foods and the raw products as there is between cooked and raw. No one expects the flavor of the latter to be the same but the fact that most canned foods undergo their principal cooking and process after the can is sealed helps to a great extent to preserve the natural flavor. "When one takes into consideration the fact that canned foods are prepared, cooked and ready to serve without any waste, he will realize they are comparatively cheap. Moreover, fresh fruits and vegetables are not procurable at any price in many places during some seasons of the year."

"Pure water, or water in the form of a cooked salt solution or syrup, is added to most canned foods because it is absolutely necessary to cook the foods properly and to secure thorough sterilization. Without such sterilization the Canning Industry could not exist."

Eminent Authorities Pay Tribute.

Perhaps no other testimonial has been given than by the late Marion Harland, the noted writer, who said: "I had written for perhaps ten years warning American women against canned foods. I said, put them up at home or go without them. I beg them now to use canned foods. We are proud to have them on our table."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the famous pure food expert, had this to say:

"The canned food industry, more especially that portion of it represented by the National Association, has been foremost among the food industries in its endeavor to improve their output by the selection of good material, by sanitary factory methods, the improvement of the quality of the container and the abolition of the use of preservatives. While there are still undoubtedly many small canneries where these ideals are not attained, the trade as a whole has fallen into step with the work under the pure food law. "For seasons of natural shortage, for periods, places and times when fresh goods are not available, the canned goods fill a most important place in the modern dietary, and the wholesomeness, palatability, and convenience of the products are in most instances unquestionable, and under modern conditions of life they are filling a larger and larger need."

Another time Dr. Wiley remarked he had quit growing peas upon his farm in Virginia, inasmuch as he could now buy better ones canned.

Distinguished Senator Speaks as Expert.

United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, of Maine, himself a prominent canner, once said: "The packer of foods is an expert in his line. He learns to pack a single food in the very best way; he is a specialist in his business. If he desires to pack fancy corn, the finest in the world, he locates in Maine, builds an up-to-date cannery that is always clean and sanitary and from the delicious sweet corn packs an article that is such a luxury in winter, and at a cost much less than the same article could be purchased for even in its season. "If salmon is to be packed, then the canner would locate on the Columbia River or in the extreme northwest. And so each State or locality produces a particular fruit, vegetable, fish or meat adapted to its own section."

"Canning establishments of today are equipped with modern automatic machinery, handling enormous quantities in a cleanly and most economical way. The tin can is one of the cheapest containers, a two-pound can costing scarcely more than one cent and where such enormous quantities are handled the labor is of trifling expense."

"Fuel in preparation of foods in the kitchen is an expense often overlooked by the housekeeper, and as canned foods are ready to serve, with little or no cooking, a saving is made of much more from this source than is usually allowed."

Convenience of Canned Foods.

Speaking of the convenience of canned foods, a high official in the canning industry said:

"It should be remembered that most canned foods are sufficiently cooked and only require warming to suit the taste or the purpose at hand. With vegetables like peas, asparagus, stringless beans, etc., brine is used merely to favor the contents. The salt is not essential to the keeping qualities. In the case of fruits, sugar syrup is used merely to flavor, for the sugar is not in any way necessary for the keeping qualities. The housewife frequently throws away the surplus fruit syrup found in the can, not realizing that it makes a most acceptable sauce for puddings."

"Canned compounds" sometimes advertised and even used by some housewives are of no possible use to commercial packers. Their products are simply sterilized by heat alone, and preservatives which the popular mind ignorantly associates with canned foods, are never used."

DO YOU KNOW

March 3 to 10

IS

National Canned Foods Week?

"The Consumer's Opportunity"

THE American canned foods industry now leads the world in quality and production. These days, the housewife may serve an entire canned meal—the completeness of which our grandmothers perhaps never dreamed. Before the days of commercial canning, the variety was limited and the supply far from abundant. So remarkably, however, has the canning industry developed, that it is now possible to secure almost every fruit, vegetable, meat and fish canned. Also milk.

Canned foods are already prepared and can be served either hot or cold, without the necessity of cooking to make them palatable or digestible. Entertaining unexpected company is thus really a pleasure.

Modern canning factories not only put up fresh, clean food, but the can itself is first sterilized before the food goes in.

The can is never opened after sealing until it reaches the kitchen of the housewife miles away, but it opens up as fresh and tender as the day it was taken from the field.

The consumer gets fresh foods in the winter months as well as during the summer. He is indebted to the canner for fresh, health-giving food fifty-two weeks in the year.

By way of observing National Canned Foods Week, call upon your dealer TODAY and acquaint yourself with the wonderful assortment of canned foods at your service.

Buy canned foods this Week and convince yourself of their wholesomeness, economy, and superior quality.

"True to Wisconsin's Quality Traditions."

CANNED CORN

Its Preparation, Nutritive Value and Uses.

POPULARITY OF SWEET CORN

Nearly every home garden in the Northern States contains its patch of sweet corn. Corn on the cob is a popular American vegetable and a wholesome addition to the diet in the late summer and fall. If gathered while in the tender state, it is considered a great delicacy. The sweet succulent quality of this vegetable has always made it a favorite food.

Fresh corn on the cob is, however, inconvenient to serve and often difficult to secure at the proper stage of ripeness if purchased far from the source of supply. Furthermore, the hardening process continues in the ear after the corn is picked and the sugar content of the kernel decreases rapidly. It cannot, therefore, be stored or shipped to advantage and the season for corn on the cob is comparatively short.

However, sweet corn can be readily canned on a commercial scale and in the commercial canning processes the time from the gathering of the corn to the finished product is reduced to a minimum. In this way canned corn retains most of the desirable qualities of the fresh product and good sweet corn is available the year round. That is one reason why it is one of the most popular of the canned vegetables.

HISTORY OF SWEET CORN

The first sweet corn seed offered for sale was listed in a seed catalog of the year 1825. The number of varieties has gradually increased until in 1881 thirty-five were described and at present it is difficult to say how many varieties exist.

Indian corn, or maize, is a native of America and was cultivated here at the time of the discovery of America. Darwin in his "Voyage of a Naturalist" reports finding ears of corn imbedded with sea-shells in land eighty-five feet above sea level, which indicates its use by American Indians at a very remote period. The canning of corn was first made practical by the investigations of Isaac Winslow, of Maine, who began to can corn in a small way in 1838 in Portland. It took him fourteen years before he was sufficiently satisfied with the success of his work to take out a patent.

CANNING PROCESS

Canned corn is put up principally in two forms—the so-called whole-grain style and the cream style. In the former, the kernels are simply cut from the ears after husking, while in the latter the upper portion of the kernels is cut off and the creamy contents of the lower portion is forced out by means of scrapers, leaving a large portion of the fibrous part of the kernels on the cob. Both types of product are freed from silk and pieces of cob mechanically and are packed in cans with the necessary amount of salt, sugar and water. The contents of the cans are heated to nearly the boiling point before they are sealed up and are cooked under pressure in such a way as to affect the appearance of the product as little as possible.

The various canning operations are almost entirely mechanical. Corn on the cob is also canned to a limited extent and the demand appears to be increasing.

The common sizes of cans used are No. 1, holding about 11 ozs., and No. 2, containing about 20 ozs. of corn.

Most progressive canners have found that it pays to grade their corn for canning purposes. This is usually done on a conveyor belt after the corn is husked. The maturity and condition of the corn determines largely its suitability for fancy, extra standard or standard grade, the first being the highest grade of product packed.

CANNED CORN AS FOOD

The changes brought about in corn by canning or cooking are the softening or breaking down of the cell walls, making the starch and other cell constituents more readily digestible and improving the flavor. Cooking of starch renders it more soluble and favors digestion.

"The germ of corn makes up an unusually large percentage of the kernel as compared with most grains, and as the germ is very rich in fat, the grain as a whole is characterized by an unusually large proportion of this constituent. The proportion of protein is also fairly high. Carbohydrates, particularly starch and sugar, make up the greater part of the nutritive material of corn, as of other cereals."

"Corn canned alone or mixed with beans or tomatoes is a very palatable food, reasonable in price and a useful addition to the list of vegetables, particularly in the winter diet. Careful experiments made to test the digestibility of corn indicate that the carbohydrates (sugar, starch, fibre) are almost completely utilized by the body, no matter how the grain is cooked. When combined with such protein foods as meat, milk, cheese, peas or beans, it is a healthy, nutritious and inexpensive food, and has been proven by common experience to be wholesome, palatable, and a welcome addition to the diet. Considering all its uses, corn is one of the most important cereal foods from the standpoint of palatability, nutritive value and digestibility. It may be prepared for the table in a great variety of ways and in some form or other is deservedly used in the majority of American homes." (Farmers' Bulletin 295, U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

It is generally believed by modern dietitians that a physiologically sufficient diet must have an adequate fuel value in calories and must contain proteins of proper composition, carbohydrates and fat. In addition, it must also have a sufficient amount of Vitamins A, B, and C, and necessary inorganic salts. The investigations of McCollum, Simmonds and Plitz in 1916 show that the corn kernel, if supplemented with a diet containing additional protein, mineral salts and Vitamin A, furnishes a well balanced ration. This can readily be secured by mixing canned corn with milk or its products which is the common practice in serving most corn dishes.

There are many different ways of serving canned corn. It can be used for making soup, as a vegetable it is often either simply heated or prepared as scalloped corn, corn au gratin, or mixed with lima beans or tomatoes. Corn fritters are a very popular American dish.

SOME POPULAR CANNED CORN RECIPES

CREAMED CANNED CORN—One No. 2 size can corn, 1 cup white sauce. Heat the corn in a double boiler ten minutes, then mix with the white sauce and serve well seasoned with salt, pepper and paprika.

CORN SOUFFLE—One No. 2 size can corn chopped fine, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, seasoning, 1 teaspoon cornstarch. Add the milk to the corn and simmer ten minutes. Stir in the seasoning, the cornstarch blended with cold milk, and cook a few minutes; then whip in the egg yolk, and lastly the stiffly beaten egg white. Bake in a hot, well-greased baking dish twenty minutes.

SUCCOTASH—One-half No. 2 size can corn, one-half No. 2 size can lima beans, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, seasoning. Cook all together fifteen minutes. Serve very hot. Wax beans may be substituted for lima beans and a small piece of bacon for the butter or margarine.

SCALLOPED CORN—One No. 2 size can corn, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter, one-half small onion, chopped, seasoning, 1 green pepper or pimiento. Chop the corn and mix with the seasoning and onion and place in layers in a well-greased baking dish with the bread crumbs and pepper. Scatter bread crumbs over the top, dot with butter and bake half an hour.

CORN FRITTERS—One No. 2 size can corn, 1 well-beaten egg, 1 cup flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, milk. Sift the flour, salt and baking powder together and add the corn, chopped fine, the sugar and the egg well beaten. Add sufficient milk to make a good drop batter; fry in deep fat to a golden brown.

CORN PUDDING—One No. 2 size can of corn, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon of butter or margarine, salt, pepper, paprika. Chop the corn fine and add to it the egg and milk, also the sugar, and season highly. Stir the melted butter or margarine in well, and pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake half an hour in moderate oven. Green pepper or pimiento may be added for variety.
